

As an active Amateur Radio Operator, callsign ND5S, I am very concerned about sending RF energy, in the form of Internet traffic, through existing AC power lines and its effect on High Frequency (HF) communications. An intense study must be made before we make an irreversible decision in this matter and damage communications capability.